

MALE INCONTINENCE HELP YOURSELF VEND

Tackling the taboo: We know what men need when they visit the washroom, and we are driven to provide access to male incontinence products and facilities that enable all men to dispose of their incontinence waste with dignity.

The Male incontinence help yourself vending solution offers a discreet and convenient solution for individuals facing unexpected challenges with urinary incontinence. Placed strategically in washrooms, these vends provide incontinence products tailored specifically for men.

For men dealing with incontinence, this help yourself vend solution contributes to a sense of independence and dignity by ensuring that the necessary products are readily available when needed, promoting a more inclusive and considerate washroom.
