SureDry Mens Shields offer superior protection against light to moderate bladder weakness. Their thin anatomical shape ensures that they are both comfortable and discreet when worn within the underwear and an adhesive strip holds the shield in place to ensure maximum comfort.

Reliable for discreet security

SureDry Mens Shields boast an anatomical shape and super absorbent core while maintaining comfort. Designed specifically for men to effectively manage light to moderate blader weakness. Simply place them inside your underwear, held in place by an adhesive strip to provide total discretion and security. They have been designed with double barrier cuffs and a snug, contoured fit for added protection while remaining discrete. Odours are locked in thanks to exceptional core stability. The super absorbent core will absorb upto 500ml of liquid, offering the ultimate solution for those who require a reliable shield while ensuring added protection against unwanted leaks while on the go. Ideal for day-to-day use.
